Sonneman

Informed by mid-century aesthetics, the streamlined language of the Ray family fulfils directional lighting needs without sacrificing style. Supporting softly curved shades, streamlined arms rotate on axes for peak flexibility. With a chandelier and plug-in sconce, this family has a wide range of applications, from a bedside wall lamp to a workspace light. In three body finishes and five interchangeable shade finishes, including a signature Oxide Red finish, Ray is a design-forward addition to residential and commercial spaces.
